

history

Grand Trunk steam engine traveling under Rochester Road in 1927.
Courtesy of: Walter P Reuther Library, Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs, Wayne State University

Imagine a time when steam engines roared down the tracks. Built around 1880, this section of railroad was originally known as the Michigan Air Line. The tracks were removed in 1998 and the conversion from rails to trail began.

sprint

glide

Open year-round, the flat and level trail surface allows for a variety of recreational activities. The trail links neighborhoods, historic downtowns, other regional trails, parks, greenspaces and the river. Numerous events are held annually on the river and the trail. Walking and biking events, 5K and longer runs, adventure paddles, canoe races and guided learning hikes are common.

relax

explore

paddle

enjoy

Friends of the Clinton River Trail (FCRT) is an all volunteer group committed to promoting the trail as a safe and enjoyable recreational destination.

The Fall Classic, FCRT's annual fundraiser, is a family friendly event. Visit the CRT website for more information.

This map is created by FCRT, with support from Oakland County Planning, and provided free of charge by the CRT Alliance.

Walk Run
Bike

Kayak
Ski
Fish

Follow us @ ClintonRivTrail

Scan & Go

Mobile Trail Map